

In April, Significant Productions presents the World Premier of Only Some of God's Children or Mississippi Magnolias - Written & Directed by Paris Crayton III - as the fourth and final production of Season 10 at The SigPro Studio (1030 Old Mill Run, The Villages, Florida).

Best friends, John Curtis and William "Cochise" Brown, return home to Plantersville, Mississippi after taking part in the 1963 March on Washington. Inspired by the words of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other civil rights leaders, the two men contemplate if they want to spend the rest of their lives in the south. Betty, John's wife, is anxious to leave Mississippi after their son Ezekiel is attacked at a sit-in protest. Meanwhile Cochise's wife, Hattie Mae, a local juke joint singer, is excited at the prospects of singing in northern nightclubs. She willingly leaves the decision to Cochise, but Cochise only looks to John. The hope of owning the Promised Land, worked on by generations of John's family, further complicates the decision of whether to leave Mississippi. Where will these two close families choose to grow their roots: in new northern lands, or the fertile southern soil they know so well? Only Some of God's Children or Mississippi Magnolias is a beautiful, yet terribly honest story of five different flowers just waiting to bloom.

JOEL DIGGS (John Malachi Curtis) was born in Monrovia, Liberia, West Africa. He grew up in Reston, VA, and is currently a resident of Nashville, TN. Joel began his career in theatre in 2006 at Tennessee State University in Nashville. His theatre accolades include Ma' Rainey's Black Bottom, The Piano Lesson, Jitney, Topdog/Underdog, and Pipeline, just to name a few. Joel is truly grateful for the opportunity to be a part of the cast and crew in telling this wonderful and important story.

AVIS-MARIE BARNES (Betty Curtis) This is her second production with SigPro, her first being The Roommate in 2024. Her theatrical roles include: Sweetwater Taste, Oh Lord What a Night and The Best of Enemies (The Orlando Shakespeare Theater). Television roles include: Lodge 49 on AMC as Anita Jones, Oprah Winfrey's series Greenleaf as Misty Williams, and roles in the television shows Will Trent, Doom Patrol, Stranger Things, and Atlanta. Movie roles include: F1, My Mother the Madame, Pain Hustlers, Honk For Jesus. Save Your Soul, Girlfriendship, R.A.D.A.R, The Dirt and Jeepers Creepers. She is originally from Montclair, NJ and an alumnus of Howard University School of Fine Arts. Bloom where planted. Avis-MarieBarnes.biz | FB: @avismarie.barnes
